CLOAKS!

AT GALESBURG, ILL.

The President Puts in a Very Busy Day.

HE MEETS HIS OLD COMRADES.

Cornerstone Laid, Speech Making, Viewing a Parade and Attending Two Banquets—Details of the Trip from Peoria to Burlington—Still Traveling Westward.

BURLINGTON, Oct. 9.—At Peoria, yesterday morning, Mayor Clarke and a delegation of prominent citizens called on the president and escorted him to the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy depot. A brass band, Peoria post G. A. R., and a company of local militia headed the procession. The president delivered a short address.

Elsie Leslie Lyde, the child actress, presented to the president a beautiful bouquet. The president stooped and kissed her.

Just before the train reached Galesburg it was stopped and the president took a look at the beautifully decorated engine and spoke to the engineer, Frank Hilton, who was a member of the One Hundred and Second Illinois regiment, part of the president's brigade.

The president, after shaking hands with the engineer and fireman, signified a wish to take a ride on the locomotive. "I'll go up and ride with you, if you'll keep her on the track," said the president, as he climbed into the cab.

After a run of five miles the train was stopped and the president shook hands again with the engineer and fireman and left the cab. He and his two companions stood at the side of the track while the train was pulled forward until the Haslemere was abreast of the party. They climbed quickly on board, the signal to start was given, and the journey to Galesburg was resumed. The train slowed up at the city limits and it was about 10 o'clock when it pulled into the station here.

At the station here the president was met by Mayor Stevens and a local committee, who acted as his escort to the Union hotel. There was an enormous crowd at the station and lining the streets, and the progress of the procession of carriages through the streets was marked with continued cheering. At the Union hotel the president was taken to a private parlor, and in a short time arrangements were made for a brief reception to distinguished and local citizens. Gen. Post made the introductions. The reception lasted only a few minutes and the president then returned to his private parlor.

At 10:30 Gen. Post announced that the procession was ready to move. The president's party then left the hotel and was driven about the public square to the stand which had been erected facing Main street. The crowd was packed so densely in front of the stand that it was with difficulty the head of the procession forced its way through. The first part of the procession was composed of school children of whom there were fully 2,000 in line. The president stood at the front of the platform, his hat in his right hand, bowing to the children as they passed. All of the children carried little flags.

Behind the school children walked the veterans of Gen. Harrison's old brigade. They stopped a dozen times and cheered the president. As the veterans passed the stand the president's eyes were filled with tears. The review concluded at 11:35 a. m.

From the reviewing stand the president was driven to the court house where a stand had been erected from which the president addressed the assembled multitude in quite a lengthy speech.

The president was followed by Secretary Tracy, who made a brief speech, confining his remarks chiefly to the silver question in its relation to the agricultural problem. Gen. Grosvenor, of Ohio, and others followed Mr. Tracy. At the conclusion of the speech-making a column was formed and the president proceeded to Knox college, across the street, where the cornerstone of the new hall was laid.

At the close of the ceremony the president was driven to the hotel, where he was the guest of the local committee at luncheon. The president had to hurry through luncheon for he was due at the First brigade reunion at 2:30, and it was after 2 o'clock when he sat down at the table. Just after luncheon, and while he was preparing to go to the reunion, the president received an old lady, a sister of his former instructor, Joseph N. Porter, who, much to the president's entertainment, showed him a letter written by him to his instructor in 1843, when the future president was but 10 years old.

It was nearly 3 o'clock when the president, under escort of Col. Dan Dustin, of Chicago, was driven from the hotel to the opera house, where the brigade re-union was to be held. Secretary Tracy and Gen. Grosvenor remained at the hotel. When the president entered the opera house he was greeted with cheers, which were renewed when he took a seat on the stage. Col. Dustin, addressing the president, announced to him his unanimous re-election as president of the association. The announcement was received with cheers and applause. The president, acknowledging the greeting, addressed his old comrades at some length. He spoke in an easy, conversational tone.

At the conclusion of the remarks of the president, Col. Dustin introduced Representative Henderson, of Illinois, who made a brief speech. At its conclusion the veterans filed across the stage and shook hands with the president. Many of the greetings seemed to effect the president deeply, and his voice broke more than once as he acknowledged them. From the opera house the president was driven to the hotel where he retired to his room to obtain a little rest. At night he attended a banquet given by the Phi Delta Theta society at college hall, and later a banquet given by the First brigade at the First Christian church.

From the banquet room the president was driven direct to his train which pulled out for Burlington. The journey was made at the rate of forty-five miles an hour.

The president and his party arrived here at 10 o'clock. They were welcomed by the mayor of the city, George A. Duncan, who expressed regret at the absence of the governor. The president was then taken to the rooms of the Commercial club where an informal reception was tendered him. The president shook hands with several hundred people during the reception. From the club the president was driven back to the station and at about 11 o'clock the train pulled out for Ottumwa.

UNRESTRICTED RECIPROCITY.

Canada's Minister of Justice Says It Would Ruin Her Manufactures.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 9.—Sir John Thompson, minister of justice, arrived at Antigonish Tuesday and was presented with an address. In reply he referred to the trade question. He said the government was opposed to unrestricted reciprocity, which would ruin Canada's manufactures, but was in favor of reciprocity in natural products.

This he said, the United States would not accept. The opposition wished the government to go to Washington and say that Canadians would starve without reciprocity. This was no way to make a bargain.

The government would not do this, but Messrs. Cartwright, Wiman, Charlton and Longley had gone to Washington to beg for reciprocity. Within four weeks of their visit the United States had adopted the highest tariff they ever had, and relations with the United States were worse than ever. Sir John said the government was finding new markets in Japan, China and the West Indies.

He stated that during the past two years, since the West India line of steamers had been subsidized, Canada had sent more farm products to the West Indies than it had sent to the United States during any two years of reciprocity treaty. This, he declared, showed the success of a vigorous trade policy.

Some Justice Abroad.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Mr. Meyer Jonassen received a dispatch yesterday dated Berlin, from his son Joseph, saying that the latter had been acquitted of the charge made against him by three drunken students with whom he had quarreled for an insult to him because he was an American. They accused young Jonassen of saying, "I sneeze at your emperor," a political crime for which the extreme penalty is ten years imprisonment in a German fortress.

Mr. Jonassen gave bonds for his release and came home. He returned on his father's advice and stood trial being acquitted.

Has Lived 107 Years.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 9.—The citizens of Brown county seem to have an extra lease on life. There are several in the county who are bordering on one hundred years of age. Wiley Gey, of Van Buren township, is undoubtedly at the head of the list, having passed the century mile stone seven years ago. He is very poor, and lives on the charity of his neighbors, along with the township trustee's assistance. His extreme weakness and emaciation prevents his being moved to the county asylum.

Quiet on the Erie Railroads.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Everything is quiet on the Erie railroad. Yesterday was set for the strike in case the demand made by the employees of the road upon Second Vice President E. B. Thomas for shorter hours was not granted. Second Vice President Thomas has sent a letter to Chairman Youngton, of the delegation of employees informing him that he would positively give the men an answer to-morrow. It is understood that the board of directors are in favor of meeting the men on a fair basis.

Long Chase After Stage Robbers.

DENVER, Oct. 9.—Deputy United States Marshal Bush has arrived here from Salt Lake, whither he went to capture the Muddy Creek stage robbers. Bush located the two men last August in the Blue mountains, and started after them with a posse. He chased them from Wyoming to Utah, thence to New Mexico, then back to the Blue mountains and finally to the LaSalle mountains, where Dan Parker was captured after a desperate resistance. Frank Rogers, the other robber escaped.

Northwestern Branch W. F. M.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—The first open meeting of the northwestern branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society was held in the Meridian street Methodist Episcopal church last night. The branch includes Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, and 250 delegates from the four states are expected to attend this the twentieth annual meeting, which will continue until Friday noon. The conference secretaries and various committees submitted their reports.

Alleged Postoffice Robbers Caught.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 9.—John Thompson, William Thompson and John McCullough, all of Chelubusco, Whitley county, were arrested by Sheriff Viberg, of this city. They are charged with being the masked robbers who compelled the wife of Postmaster Hathaway, of Wesley Chapel, this county, at the point of revolvers, to turn over the money on hand, a few days ago. They are held in $2,000 bail.

Chase's Grandson Suicides.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 9.—William Sprague, Jr., grandson of Salmon P. Chase and only son of ex-Governor Sprague, of Rhode Island, committed suicide by inhaling chloroform yesterday afternoon. Deceased came here from Chicago and secured employment in a mental capacity with The Seattle Journal. Despondency prompted his suicide.

Canton, O., Oct. 9.—A collision occurred on the Cleveland, Canton and Southern road at 11 o'clock last night at Magadore, between freight train No. 54 and three flat cars standing on the siding. Open switch. General smash; nobody hurt seriously.

Gored to Death by a Cow.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 9.—Chief Murphy, of the Columbus police, returned from San Francisco yesterday with the soldier wanted for rape, but has no tidings of his lost brother, Detective James Murphy, who mysteriously disappeared at Ogden, Utah, while en route to the Pacific coast.

Mount Sterling, Ky., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Noah Prince was gored to death by a cow last evening.

RUBE BURROWS DEAD

He Was Shot by One of His Captors

IN AN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.

The Noted Outlaw, After Being Locked Up, Secures His Revolvers and Compels His Guards to Permit Him to Walk Out of the Jail.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 9.—Rube Burrows, the noted outlaw and train robber, who was captured Tuesday and jailed at Linden, Ala., was shot and killed about daylight Wednesday morning by J. C. Carter, one of his captors.

Tuesday night Burrows was placed in the sheriff's office, inside the jail, under guard of a man by the name of McDuffee, one of his captors, and a negro named Carter. The other captor was at the hotel with the money found on Burrows person Tuesday when he was arrested. The outlaw's hands and feet were tied, and every precaution taken to prevent his getting away.

Early Wednesday morning he complained of hunger. McDuffee answered that he had nothing to eat. A pair of saddlebags which had been taken from the prisoner, were lying in the room. Looking toward them in a careless sort of way the outlaw observed: "I have some crackers in my saddlebags if you will hand them to me."

McDuffee suspected nothing and handed the saddlebags over without opening them. Burrows, instead of crackers, drew forth a pair of pistols, and, covering McDuffee and the negro, ordered them to untie him, which they did, and keeping them in front of him, he walked out of the front door.

He then asked for his money and started toward the hotel to recover it of Carter, who had it. The latter, of course, was greatly surprised to see Burrows, whom he supposed was bound hand and foot in jail. Burrows drew his revolver and demanded the money.

Both then opened fire, and Burrows was killed, while Carter received an ugly wound in the breast. The news of the affair has created intense excitement. Carter is a hero. The extent of his injuries is not known at present.

Anti-Saloon Crusade.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 9.—Bloomington was a very dry town Tuesday. Monday night at 9 o'clock the city marshal informed each of the saloon keepers that if they opened Tuesday morning they would be arrested for numerous violations of the liquor law. The result was that but one saloon in the city opened, and it was soon closed, after paying $60 in fines. The movement is the result of the law and order league, organized a few weeks ago. It is said there are from three to a dozen cases against each saloon keeper.

Election in Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 9.—Official returns from the town elections in Connecticut come in slowly. These are to a large degree local contests, and are often more personal and domestic than political, though the result is always looked for with interest. Of 110 towns at present reported, forty-nine elect Republican town clerks and board of selectmen, thirty-nine go Democratic and twenty-two are divided. Last year these same towns stood fifty-two Republican, thirty-two Democratic and twenty-six divided.

Killed by a Freight Train.

GREENFIELD, Ind., Oct. 9.—As Samuel Anderson, aged about 70, attempted to crawl under a freight train it was started and he was caught by the brake bars and rolled over and his life crushed out. The train was soon stopped and his remains removed but slightly mangled. He has been engaged by the Pan Handle company here for many years to attend to the switch lights. He was one of Greenfield's first settlers. He leaves a wife and thirteen living children.

To Control the Cotton Mills.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Messrs. A. F. Gauld and David Morrice are engaged in securing control of all the cotton mills working on gray goods in the country, so as to place them under one ownership. It is understood they have progressed satisfactorily so far. The effort is said to be the outcome of the visit of these gentlemen to England last spring, the object of which was to investigate the possibility of being able to dispose of the mill to an English syndicate.

Death by Electricity.

ALBANY, Oct. 9.—Dr. Charles F. MacDonald, who had charge of the execution of Kemmler, sent official report to Governor Hill yesterday. Dr. MacDonald is of the opinion that Kemmler's death was instantaneous. The doctor argues that death by electricity is far more humane than by hanging. He recommends the construction of a building in the central part of the state where all the executions should take place, and where an electrical plant specially adapted for such work should be maintained.

Mass Meeting of Strikers.

ISHPENING, Mich., Oct. 9.—A mass meeting of striking miners was held yesterday morning, 2,500 workingmen being present. A committee was chosen to transact business. The committee will submit a proposition for a compromise to mining companies' agent. The men are good natured and orderly, but have compelled every man to leave the underground workings of the mines. There is hope of a settlement to-morrow, but if one is not reached speedily the prospect of the men winning is small.

Trying the Vesuvius.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 9.—The dynamite cruiser Vesuvius went over the measured mile course again yesterday at a slow speed with natural draft. She made 18.564 knots and worked well. Full speed trials with forced draft will probably be made to-morrow.

Church Damaged by Fire.

JAMESTOWN, O., Oct. 9.—Fire yesterday damaged the First Presbyterian church about $20,000. The building is fully insured, but the furniture was not and the organ is a complete loss. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an electric light wire.

Arrested After seventeen Years.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 9.—Nathan Willett, a farmer living near Norwalk, has been arrested on a charge of murder, he having killed H. B. Woodward, in Anderson county, Tex., seventeen years ago.

A Town in Darkness.

SIDNEY, O., Oct. 9.—The Sidney electric light and gas works burned yesterday, leaving the city in total darkness. The loss runs into thousands.

Fatal Accident.

WAPAKONETA, O., Oct. 9.—Joseph Bragg's son, aged 16, was run over by a wagon and killed on the steep grade near St. Johns.

What We Are and What We Need.

The editor of the Portsmouth Blade stopped in Maysville a few days ago for a few hours, and here is what he says of our city:

"We were surprised at the large number of stone fronts in Maysville. They are of common occurrence on the business streets, and give the city a wealthy and substantial appearance. In its architecture Maysville is as far ahead of Portsmouth on its main business street, as Portsmouth is ahead of Otway. They use the magnificent freestone in their hills, and it makes beautiful buildings. We do not use it. That's the difference between the two cities. In manufacturing establishments, schools, churches and streets, however, Portsmouth is a hundred years in advance of our pretty little neighbor. Maysville has plenty of money. The people are rich. What they need is more hustlers for money—men who create wealth."

Perhaps, if the editor of the Blade had remained with us a few days—he was here on Sunday—and visited the plow factory, the planing and saw mills, the flour mills, the cigar factories, the cotton mills, the plug tobacco factory, the furniture factory, the distilleries, &c., &c., he would not think that Portsmouth is one hundred years ahead of Maysville in point of manufacturing establishments. Portsmouth may be ahead of us in this particular, but we don't believe she has the advance claimed by the Blade.

The Blade says we need "more hustlers for money—men who create wealth." The Blade is right on that point. We need men who will devote their energy and their capital to manufacturing instead of merchandizing. If more of Maysville's money was invested in industrial enterprises, Maysville would soon outstrip all her neighbors.

The Tariff and Shoes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—About 130 shoe manufacturers, representing all parts of the country, met here yesterday and decided that there must be an advance in the price of shoes. This decision was reached only after a long discussion. It was said that the advance would be from 25 to 50 cents a pair.

And so every one who buys a pair of shoes now is to be taxed from 25 to 50 cents on account of the McKinley bill. This is bringing the tariff question right home to every door in the land.

The advance is due to the tariff on leather, thread and other material used in manufacturing shoes. The shoe manufacturers protested against this tariff on raw hides, but the Republicans listened to Armour, the Chicago millionaire, and the other big cattle dealers, and stuck that tariff on leather.

Armour and these other millionaires are the ones who will reap the benefit of this tariff on raw hides, and every one who buys a pair of shoes now will help pay it.

The tariff is a tax.

Let every one who wears shoes vote next month against the party that legislates for Armour and his fellow millionaires.

The people are finding out that a higher tariff means higher prices for many of the necessities of life.

The Prohibitionists of this district have nominated W. W. Dye, of Fleming County, for Congress. It is safe to wager that Mr. Dye will not be the next Representative from the Ninth.

R. P. HAYES, a son of ex-President Hayes, says that alleged tariff interview with his father was a fabrication. A significant fact in this connection is that the old man himself has never denied it. Perhaps he doesn't know as much about it as his son.

It costs Hon. C. J. Bronston, delegate to the Constitutional convention from Lexington, $7 per day for the employment of special attorneys in his district to take his place as Prosecuting Attorney. As he only receives $5 per diem for his services as delegate, he is out $2 a day.

A COMMUNICATION from the State Auditor to the Constitutional convention shows that the total salaries paid County Judges in this State this year amounts to $68,445; County Attorneys, $57,146; County Superintendents, $63,448; County Jesters, $6,549. Only fifteen Jesters receive any salary, the others receiving fees exclusively.

A REPUBLICAN organ excuses the advance in the price of such necessities as hardware, hosiery, etc., on the ground that the people have been buying these articles at too low prices, and it congratulates the country upon the advance of prices."

And there are lots of pigheaded Republican galoots who will accept the Republican organ's excuse.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Rev. Henderson's Remarkable Address Before the Methodist Ministers' Meeting.

"Rev. Howard Henderson, of Trinity M. E. Church, delivered a remarkable address before the Methodist ministers' meeting Monday morning," says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

"His subject was 'Capital and Labor,' and the many strong points made by the eloquent speaker were loudly applauded by the assembled brethren. Capital, he said, is trying to keep the laboring man's wages down to a mere living point, and labor is provoked to retaliate by doing as little as possible and lying in wait to gain advantages over employers. There is no bond of sympathy between the two, and the employed knows nothing whatever of employers. People now have no chance to grow rich as formerly, as machinery and division of labor is developing men by confining them to a specialty. Machinery has substituted skill. Presumption, hereditary wealth and corporate franchises fix capital and prevent its distribution."

"Everything tends to the centralization of capital and the differentiation of labor. If this fight is to forever continue, then human brotherhood is a fiction and peace on earth and good will toward men is a myth. 'Woe to the age when gold is God and law a solemn jest.' Few laborers now can support a family and must make wife and children seek employment to exist. Little children are every day being martyred in mills, mines and factories, and held in ignorance and overworked. God, who winged birds and gave fur to the squirrels, never intended to throttle childhood. Industrial capital must share profit with labor, for the possibility of improving one's condition is the great conservator of industry and a promoter of thrift. The church must preach the gospel to and for the working-man. The strong must bear the burdens of the weak."

The speaker is well known in Maysville and throughout Kentucky, having filled the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction some years ago.

Here and There.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Long are at Eureka, Ill., visiting his sister.

Mrs. Hiram Daugherty and children have returned from a visit at Covington.

Mr. James Cooke, of Germantown, left this morning to attend college at Lexington.

Dr. Malloy and Dr. Norris returned yesterday to Lexington, after a visit to relatives at Germantown and attending the fair.

Mrs. Augustus Heath, accompanied by her son, Harry, of Springfield, O., is here to attend the funeral of her brother, Mr. S. J. Daugherty.

Mrs. W. B. Thomas was called to Danville this week by the critical illness of Mrs. Carrie Crittenden Young, relict of Dr. J. C. Young.

River News.

Rising at this point.

The Pittsburgh coal fleet was passing last night.

The fog has got the Pittsburgh packets away behind time.

The Boston will receive a new cylinder at Portsmouth next Sunday.

The shipment of coal from Pittsburgh on the present rise amounts to 2,568,000 bushels.

Due up to-night: Sherley for Portsmouth, and Boston for Pomeroy. Down: Rainbow.

The Grays, of Pittsburgh, have sold their three large towboats, Ironsides, Iron Age and Iron Duke, to a large line that will operate between Sheffield, Ala., and Cincinnati, and other points on the Ohio and Mississippi. The new company will handle the output of three large furnaces.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

The Georgetown Times says: "Rev. W. J. E. Cox, pastor of the Maysville Baptist Church, recently pastor of the Georgetown church, has received a call to Cynthiana."

The Times is mistaken, Rev. W. J. E. Cox is still pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city and has received no call from the church at Cynthiana. Rev. C. C. Cox, of Carlisle, has been called to the Cynthiana church, and the Times and several other papers have simply confounded the names of the two ministers.

COUNTIES.

What the Constitutional Convention Has Agreed Upon.

The Constitutional convention has been in session several weeks, and the only clause agreed upon so far is that in reference to counties. It reads as follows:

"Sec. 1. No new counties shall be formed or established by the General Assembly which will reduce the county or counties, or either of them, from which it shall be taken, to less area than four hundred square miles, nor shall any county be formed of less contents; nor shall any line thereof pass within less than ten miles of the county or counties proposed to be divided.

"Sec. 2. No county shall be divided, or have any part stricken therefrom, without submitting the question to a vote of the people of the county, nor unless a majority of all the legal voters of the county voting on the question shall vote for the same.

"Sec. 3. There shall be no territory stricken from any county unless a majority of the voters living in such territory shall petition for such a division. But the portion so stricken and added to another county, or formed in whole or in part into a new county, shall be held for and obliged to pay its portion of the bonded indebtedness of the county from which it has been taken."

The Commandery meets to-night for the purpose of conferring the Knight Templar Order on several candidates.

Death of a Bracken County Patricide.

John M. Neaves, a convict sent up from Bracken County about two years ago for life, on the charge of murdering his aged father, died in the penitentiary yesterday of heart disease.

Neaves was a married man living on a farm which his father owned, and about the rent of which there had been a disagreement between father and son. About harvest time in the presence of his bands, Neaves remarked:

"If the old man comes after his rent to-day there will be trouble." Shortly afterward the hands saw the aged father approaching on a horse, and Neaves went toward him with a gun and shot him in the head, producing death instantly. The murderer fled, but was captured some weeks afterwards in Adams County, Ohio.

"The body of the deceased convict, if not called for by relatives, will be turned over to the medical college of the State, says a special from Frankfort."

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Sutton celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Aberdeen, Oct. 6th. No invitations were sent out, but quite a number of their friends and acquaintances called on the aged couple during the afternoon and evening, and remembered them kindly in the way of valuable and substantial presents. Refreshments were served to the guests, the occasion being a happy one, especially to the couple who had passed a half century of married life.

Mr. G. W. Sutton and Miss Julia A. Shepard were married near Concord, Lewis County, Ky., on Oct. 6th, 1840, by Rev. Hugh Wilson. Mr. Sutton was born in 1806 and Mrs. Sutton in 1817. They are unusually hearty and sprightly, retaining their hearing and sight remarkably well for people so far advanced in years, and seemingly have the prospect of living for many years to come.

Lysakowski—Reed.

Mr. J. J. Lysakowski, aged twenty-six, of Lebanon, Ill., and Miss Katie L. Reed, aged nineteen, daughter of Mrs. Eva Reed, of this city, were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. Father Glorieux at his home on Limestone street. Mr. Lysakowski secured his bride through a notice in the personal columns of the Cincinnati Enquirer some months ago. His advertisement for a lady correspondent was answered, and the acquaintance thus strangely commenced, resulted yesterday in the marriage of the couple.

The groom is a jeweler and rated at $3,000 in the commercial agencies.

Beware of Feather Renovators.

Two feather renovators arrived in this city about two weeks ago and put up at a house in the bottoms on East Third street. We are informed that they visited a number of families here and procured several beds to renovate. One night last week they took up their beds and departed for new fields, taking with them the beds they were to clean, it is reported. Where they have gone is a mystery. No c'ew, as usual.—Ripley Bee.

Notice to Oddfellows.

The ladies and gents who expect to take part in the organization of a Rebekah Lodge are requested to be present at Oddfellows' Hall this evening at 7 o'clock. Others who wish to receive the degree are invited to attend.

MRS. MAGGIE ARCHDEACON has returned from Cincinnati, where she has been buying a handsome stock of millinery goods.

THEY have commenced "banding" the rail for the electric street railroad. The drillers have completed about one mile of the track.

AT Paris, G. G. White's fine brood mare N. dad Queen, record 2:204, had one leg broken by being kicked by another animal. He paid $5,300 for her two years ago.

MR. JOHN WALSH, agent and collector for R. B. Kniffin, Rochester, New York, has secured the contract to furnish the shrubbery for the Long View Cemetery at Bethel, Bath County. The first order calls for three hundred shade trees.

A NOSHIO (Kan.) farmer sent this mixed order to a Chanute merchant: "Send me a sack of flour, five pounds of cote and one pound of tee. My wife gave birth to a big baby boy last night, also five pounds of corn starch, a screw driver and flytrap. It weighed ten pounds and a straw hat."

DR. PHISTER has let the contract for extensive improvements to his residence on East Third street. The plans call for a large bay window, an oriole over the front entrance and a mansard roof. It will be one of the handsomest residences in town when the improvements are completed. Messrs. Lane & Worick have the contract and the Maysville Manufacturing Company will furnish the material.

FOUNTAIN LAND, the old simpleton who was bailed out of $5,000 in Jessamine County, has recovered all of his money from the thieves in Canada, but had to give Detective Norrissall of it for catching the scoundrels, who were at once released and sent to new fields to gull other rustics. They will find lots of them who are too poor to read the papers, who will give up large sums for experience.—Bourbon News.

H. A. BIERLEY, of Lexington, a relative of the late C. W. Bierley of this city, has invented a novel arrangement for displaying signs that promises to bring him a fortune. The Transcript says: "It is a simple little globe that reflects signs on stores, etc., from windows and doors on to the pavement and street. It is so arranged as to increase or reduce the size of letters, and will give any color desired. Mr. Bierley has refused a large sum of money for his invention, but he is not ready to sell. He has already rented globes to the leading houses in Cincinnati, and refused $2,500 for the State of Illinois. His patent lasts seventeen years."

L. C. WHITE, better known as "Cas" White, of the Sardis neighborhood, was in Maysville a few days since and got so full of "booze" that when he started home he took the wrong route. In the course of time he reached the new gas works in the West End. It was well along into the night and he imagined he was at Murphysville. "Who's runnin' this grist mill?" he inquired in loud voice. He was told this wasn't a grist mill. He had gone but a short distance further when he walked off the bridge over Beasley Branch, and landed on the rock fifteen or twenty feet below, escaping with sprained ankles and bruised face. He was pretty badly done up, and narrowly escaped fracturing his skull in the fall.

MINER'S AXIMS.

The fire must be very low when the man who tends it has to blow himself black in the face to keep it going.

Very low grade of Shoes, too; it takes lots of "blowing" to keep them going.

That's the advantage of a reputation. It talks for you. Just as capital goes on working while the capitalist sleeps, so reputation goes on working for the merchant while he attends to business.

That's why we are so careful of our reputation.

LONDON DOCKERS.

Their Trouble Growing Very Serious.

UNION MEN TO BE LOCKED OUT.

The Ship Owners' Federation Will Open a Register and Form a Free Labor League—Distress in Ireland Exaggerated—Various Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The statements made by the ship owners and dock officials in regard to the trouble with the Dockers' union, confirms the impression which has rapidly been gaining ground, that the quarrel was growing too bitter for much longer endurance. President Mann, of the union, personally favors concessions, and would prefer to avoid a rupture, but he is wholly unable to control the men whose heads are turned by their former successes. The dockers are, without authority of the union officials, preparing against the threatened lockout by placing a guard around the docks to prevent the introduction of non-union men.

In reference to the dispute between the Allan and Wilson-Hill Steamship companies and the Dockers' union, Mr. Beckett Hill, of the latter firm, says in an interview that his associates will not submit to continuance of such annoyances, especially at a time when work is slack, as it is in the winter season. The Ship Owners' Federation will at once open register and form a free labor league, with a provision for a sick fund and other advantages. The union men will then all be locked out.

Mr. Morgan, secretary of the Joint docks, declares in an interview that matters have become so bad that the company feel compelled to end the situation. Messrs. Tillet and Mann cannot control the men, who strike without the sanction of the leaders. The dock companies have tried to work amicably with the union, but have found it impossible to do so.

Distress in Ireland Exaggerated.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Mr. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, writes to The Central News as follows: I have received endless reports and communications of all sorts regarding the potato crop in the west of Ireland. No positive or final conclusion can be formed until the potatoes are dug—toward the end of October—but all testimony of any value, and which obviously is not doctored for political purposes, appears to indicate that the cry of general famine is wholly absurd. Although in particular localities the failure is undoubtedly serious, the measures taken by the government will, without question, suffice to deal with any real distress which may be beyond the power of the ordinary poor law machinery to meet.

Reform in Belgium.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The movement for universal suffrage is attaining tremendous strength in Belgium, and much indignation has been aroused by the announcement that the ministry did not intend to submit to the Belgian parliament a proposition embodying the reform. It was, as a result of this feeling, that Minister of Public Works De Bruyn was mobbed and nearly killed at Malines, while taking official part in a civic ceremony.

France's Revenue.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—For the month of September the revenue of the French government exceeded the estimates by 4,500,000 francs, and exhibited an increase of 9,100,000 francs over the revenue for the corresponding period last year. The revenue for nine months shows a surplus of 44,100,000 francs.

Our Minister Explains.

Egyptian Cotton Crop.

CAIRO, Oct. 9.—The Cotton association has issued its report for September. It states that the first picking of the Egyptian cotton crop has been concluded. The cotton is of very good quality and the yield is estimated to be 325,000 cantars.

A Big Purchase.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 9.—The German officials state that the German East African company has purchased the whole plant of the Vitu company, and has established an agency at Lamu.

Arranging a Boat Race.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A special cable to a sporting paper from London says: William O'Connor, the champion carman of America, posted $100 as the first deposit in his match with Kemp, which was arranged in Australia. The match is for $500 a side, and is to be rowed in America in March.

Murderous Assault.

MOUNT VERNON, Oct. 9.—Marshal Jacob Beckel, of Gambier, was murderously assaulted by three drunken brothers, Frank, Ralph and Thomas McMahon, who came from Mount Vernon loaded with whisky. It is supposed that a knife was used.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

An Old Man Dies from the Effects of Being Beaten by Robbers.

WARSAW, Ind., Oct. 9.—James McGuire is lying dead at his home in East Warsaw. Mr. McGuire died Tuesday from the effects of a murderous attack made upon him Sept. 6. On the evening of that day McGuire, who is quite aged and infirm, drew his pension money. This was observed by two notorious "toughs," Ben Osborn and Sam Boneback, who followed the old man to East Warsaw.

When a lonely spot had been reached they pounced upon him, beat him in a terrible manner, robbed him of his pension money, and dragged him into a neighboring field, secreted the insensible man underneath a corn shock, the assailants evidently believing him to be dead. McGuire was discovered next morning by some farm hands.

After regaining consciousness he told who his would-be murderers were. They were at once placed under arrest, given a preliminary trial, bound over to the circuit court, and are now in the county jail. McGuire was about 65 years of age, and a veteran of the late war.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Ex-Congressman C. R. Breckinridge Has a Narrow Escape.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 9.—Private information has been received from a very responsible source that an attempt was made to assassinate ex-Congressman C. R. Breckinridge on Monday night at Center Ridge, Conway county. He is conducting his canvass for re-election, and while he was speaking a cap was snapped at his back outside the window where a large crowd had gathered.

It was about four feet from where he was standing. The report attracted much attention on the part of the audience, many of whom went out of the hall to investigate. He completed his speech, however, and on his return to his hotel, Mr. Norman, a citizen of this place, was knocked down from behind with a shotgun.

Investigating Mysterious Death.

TOWANDA, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Michael O'Brien died on Oct. 4 from the effects of an overdose of morphine, said to have been given by Dr. H. B. Murray, of Clinton. Dr. Murray gave her several injections of the drug on Oct. 3 and she died the following morning. Dr. Murray claims that other doctors gave her medicines before he was called, but this is denied. A post-mortem examination has been ordered and an inquest will be held.

Foul Play Feared.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 9.—Five weeks ago M. S. Burdera, a well-to-do carpenter, sold a piece of property for $450, receiving the money in cash. In the evening he started for home from his office, and has not been seen since. The missing man has always borne an excellent reputation, and it is feared that he was robbed and put out of the way. His wife and family are almost distraught.

Got $10,000 for Nursing an Old Man.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 9.—Frederick Stachley, an aged German, with no known relatives, who has resided in this city for years, and acquired a fortune estimated by many as amounting to $10,000, died here last week. When his will was admitted to probate it was learned that Victor M. Greiser, a popular young merchant tailor of this city, was named as his sole heir. Some months prior to the old man's death he sent for Greiser and made a contract with him that he would will him all of his property if he would live with and care for him until he died. The contract has been lived up to by both.

THE BOOK I'VE READ BEFORE.

I hear of many a "latest book." I note what zealous readers say: Through columns critical I look, With their decisive "yea!" and "nay!" At times I own I'm half inclined O'er some new "masterpiece" to pore: Yet in the end I always find I choose the book I've read before.

Its well known contents suit my taste: I know what it is all about; And so I never am in haste To find "how it is coming out."

But quietly I wend my way: O'er each familiar scene I pore— The bright, the dark, the grave, the gay— Of that old book I've read before.

Then worry not, my puzzled friend, I'm odd, I own; and so, Your way through countless volumes wend, Entranced with each, so "late" and "new,"

Be not surprised that I, meanwhile, Full many a passing hour beguile!

With some old book I've read before!

And if, perchance, the hint you take To shun the new and read the old, And find, surprised, the change you make Reveals new beauties, all untold,

—Charles R. Ballard in Literary World.

English Tram Car Manners.

"Tram car manners" continues to be a subject of excited controversy in Manchester. Up to the present it has taken the form of rather fierce recrimination between the two sexes, and we regret to say that the ladies appear to be getting the worst of it. That may, however, be because the male pens are more active. One "Manchester man" who rides frequently in cars appears from his account to have suffered greatly at the hands of female fellow passengers. Only the other day he was sitting in a full car waiting to start when a lady got on to the step and "stalked"—he "can bring himself to use no other word"—into the vehicle.

Of course the Manchester man could not do less than offer his seat, which the lady accepted. Of this he does not complain; but what does vex his soul is the thought that this lady never condescended to return a kindly smile or even a word of thanks, though her benefactor was compelled to continue the journey outside in the pouring rain. It was not always thus. "Away in the dim vista of memory," says the Manchester man, bursting almost into poetry at the thought, "I have a recollection of one day giving up my seat to an angel in an empire robe, and she said, 'Thank you.' That day marked an era in my life." It is only fair to say that the lady correspondents protest that the thankless lady passengers are quite exceptional.

The True Irish Shamrock.

In Ireland only one shamrock is known. It is an indigenous species of clover, which trails along the ground among the grass in meadows. The trefoil leaves are not more than one-fourth the size of the smallest clover I have seen in America, and are pure green in color, without any of the brown shading of white and pink clovers. The creeping stem is hard and fibrous, and is difficult to dislodge from the earth. On St. Patrick's day the true shamrock has to be searched out among the grass, for, though comparatively plentiful at that season, it grows close to the ground.

Later it bears a tiny "white brown" blossom. The information that shamrock is the Arabic word for trefoil may be of service to those interested in the origin of the Irish race. The word could have been introduced by the Milesians, or it may furnish an argument in support of the contention that one of the lost ten tribes of Israel settled in Ireland, which has been revived by the publication of a recent book, "American Notes and Queries."

He—Do you think there is anything effeminate about me? Miss Willets told me last evening that my mannerisms put her in mind of herself.

She—Miss Willets is a fool!—Epoch.
